THE POWER OF MAGAZINES

"Nearly 8 of every 10 families in the United States read magazines. People usually keep magazines longer than newspapers, and they may look over the same magazine many times. Therefore, they often see the same advertisements again and again. Many persons may read a single copy of a magazine. Advertisers call this pass-on-circulation. . ."

AFTER HOUR NEWS is more than a magazine. It is a Super Information Source for Bars, Night Clubs, Taverns, Hotels, etc. and is the king of all night-life publications. It circulates in several states, cities and counties.

AFTER HOUR NEWS is what's happening. Published and promoted weekly by Trend Publishing Company, it reaches an incredible cross-section of people carrying the power of a dynamo itself.

From Predicament to Liberation

by Arthur S. Jones

... the book about the enemy of mankind; found hidden within mankind itself, 'a book that demands a searching, respectful, and meditative reading by those concerned with personal and corporate liberation. Vantage Press, Inc.

About the Author: son of a pastor, Arthur Samuel Jones was born in North Carolina and attended Kittrell College, North Carolina College for Negroes, and Wilberforce University in Ohio. A personal friend of the late Paul Robeson, Arthur Jones started out on a career as a concert singer, a protege of Robeson, adopting this great man's singing style. In 1956 he was ordained in the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Since then he has risen in the ministerial ranks to become, in 1978, president of the New Jersey Council of Churches. Outside his churchwork, Mr. Jones has been a consultant to the Office of Economic Opportunity, and since 1967 has been the executive director of the Manpower program for the City of Newark, New Jersey. Married for thirty-four years, the Joneses have two children and two grandchildren. Mr. Jones is currently pastor of the St. Mark's African methodist Episcopal Church in East Orange, New Jersey.

THE TOTAL WOMAN

VITAL STATISTICS — NO LONGER 36-24-36!!!

In researching an idea for later use in this column, I came across some fascinating vital statistics for women in a recent issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, and felt a great need to share them with you. Please understand that these statistics have nothing to do with body shape or marvelous facial structure or even if you are wearing the latest fashions!!! This has to do with pocketbook and paycheck!!!

For instance, did you know that:

- 51% of the population is female
- 1% of women hold top jobs
- 97.6% of all secretaries are female
- 94.2% of all typists are female
- 1% of all registered apprentices are female
- 4.8% of employed women earn $10,000 to $15,000 a year, versus 22% for men
- 23% of all multiple job holders are women
- 40% of mothers with children under the age of 6 are working
- 7% of American families have working daddy, dependent mamma, and 2 children
- 51% of all working women are married
- 74% of all husbands default in the first year on court-ordered child support
- 50% of widows and single women exist on poverty-level incomes
- 60% of all working women are clerks, saleswomen, waitresses, and hairdressers
- 84% of all children whose mammas must work can find no government licensed day-care places
- 36% of all black families, 21% of all Hispanic families, and 11% of all white families are headed by women
- 50% less income is earned by women who head families than by males who head families
- 59%. For every dollar a man earns, a woman earns 59 cents
- 5.8%. A nurse with 14.2 years of education earns 5.8% less than a deliveryman
- 38%. A secretary with 13.2 years of education earns 38% less than a truckdriver with 9.0 years of education
- 2%. Female wage increases dropped in 1977. From 7.8 to 5.8%
- 2% of all board of directorships are held by women
- 40%. For every salesman's dollar earned, a saleswoman earns 40 cents
- 3%. 4,173,000 men working in the private sector earn $25,000 a year. 140,000 women earn that much — or .3%.

Still think we've come a long way, Baby????

AVOID PANIC BUYING!

"Due to gasoline shortages, motorists are faced with more than just long lines. Unscrupulous gasoline dealers are taking unfair advantage of the situation and are ripping the consumer off," said Hope Jackson, acting director of the Newark Office of Consumer Action.

"Consumers should take charge and protect themselves from being deceived. They should avoid panic buying, follow state rationing procedures, and take the proper precautions at the pumps, thus avoiding the anguish of being cheated," said Ms. Jackson.

The consumer agency recommends that customers can avoid being treated unfairly at the pumps by following these few simple points:

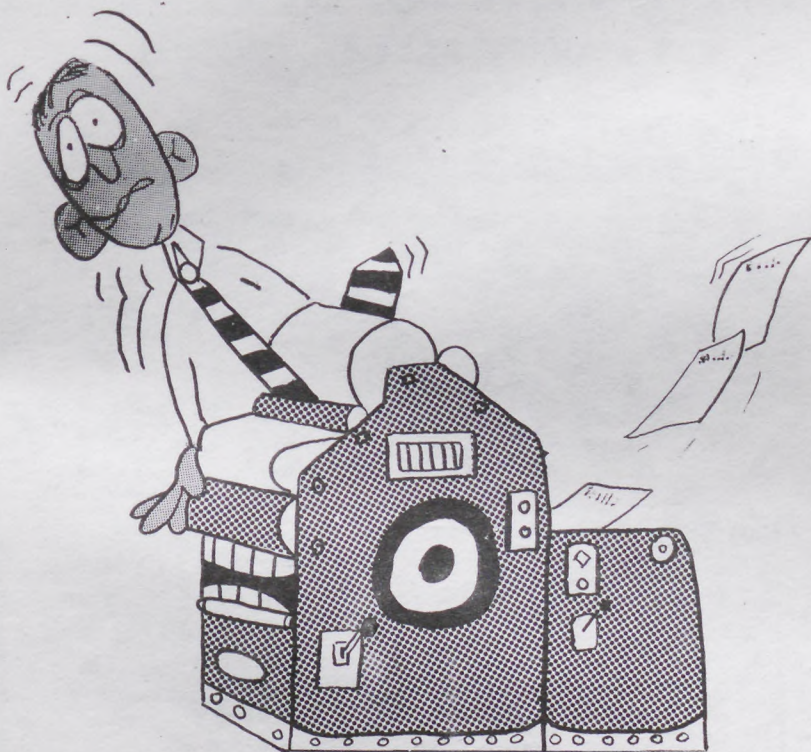

- Before any gas is pumped into your car, make sure the gas meter reads zero.
- Check to see that the meter has not been set back to zero before paying the attendant. Once reset, you have no way of knowing if you received the correct amount of gas.
- Look at the price per gallon on the face of the meter and see if it coincides with the price posted on top of the pump.
- If the station only accepts exact change, make sure you have it to avoid a conflict.
- Check credit card slips to see if the total amount on the upper right hand corner corresponds with the amount on the meter.
- Make sure the attendant is not overcharging you. Pay only the amount on the pump.
- Octane levels should be clearly visible and displayed on the face of the pump.
- A valid inspection sticker should be located on the face of the pump, showing that the meter has an accurate reading.

Ms. Jackson also advises motorists not to store gasoline at home or in cars. "Gasoline fumes are potentially dangerous, and it is risky to hoard gas no matter how safe the storage container appears to be."
